

Good & Well Summer Internship Program

Dates | May 5 to August 8, 2025

Location | Toronto

Our internship program is designed for highly motivated undergraduate students who are interested in leveraging the private sector model to drive social and environmental change.

Interns complete a 14-week work experience at a high-potential, impact-focused enterprise in the Good & Well portfolio. Over the same period, they pursue a robust curriculum focused on personal and professional development and have opportunities to connect with like-minded peers. Interns come from a range of academic disciplines and take on a variety of internship roles – from impact investing to software development to marketing.

Program Curriculum

Complementary to their work with their host companies, interns participate in programming focused on:

Professional Development

Interns build knowledge and connections for a meaningful career.

- Workshops. Interns engage with industry professionals on topics such as impact investing, entrepreneurship, and effective leadership in the impact sector.
- Career-building. We facilitate sessions on recruitment-related topics such as interview skills and careers in the social impact sector.
- Mentorship. Interns are matched with social impact professionals to learn about diverse career paths and experiences in the sector.

Leadership and Resilience

Interns gain tools to help them grow personally and lead with humanity.

- Leadership retreat. A three-day off-site gathering offers intensive leadership development and community-building opportunities.
- Well-being and resilience. Interns explore a range of well-being practices.

Lifelong Community

Interns build relationships with like-minded peers by connecting with their cohort and the wider Good & Well community through events and excursions.

Program Impact

Over the last seven years, 120 students have participated in the internship program, representing 16 universities and colleges and 22 academic disciplines. Interns have gone on to graduate school, been hired by the companies in which they worked, and taken roles in the private and non-governmental sectors.

Internship Statistics*

- 100% would recommend the internship program to a friend.
- 100% intend to pursue work that has a positive social and/or environmental impact at some point in their career.
- 97% strengthened at least one technical and at least one soft skill during their internship

**Based on participant survey results from 2024*

Program Eligibility

- Currently enrolled at a post-secondary institution at the second-year undergraduate level and above
- Legally entitled to work in Canada in accordance with relevant provincial or territorial legislation and regulations
- Committed to the full internship term (May 5 to August 8, 2025), including a 3- day outdoor retreat in June
