

Frequently Asked Questions

Question	Answer
Can I still apply to the program if I don't meet the eligibility criteria?	Yes, you can. However, people who meet the eligibility criteria will be prioritized, and only if we are unable to find a candidate from this pool will we review other applications.
Can I email a reference letter in support of my application?	No. If you email a reference letter, it will not be taken into consideration.
Do you prioritize business students?	Absolutely not! We've had great candidates from all academic backgrounds and seek to have a diverse internship cohort.
Do I need to be able to work from Toronto?	It depends. If the job description states that the role will be entirely in-person or hybrid, you will need to be in Toronto. If the job description states that the job is completely remote, we are happy to accommodate people working from anywhere in Canada. The decisions of companies with regards to remaining remote or working in person are non-negotiable.
Can I apply to multiple roles?	Yes. Feel free to apply to as many roles as you'd like. However, roles posted in December are due on January 16th without exception. These cannot be delayed to February.
Do you prioritize upper year students?	This program is designed for students going into their final year. With that being said, we are open to hiring those not meeting this requirement assuming they are a fit for the role.
I missed the deadline - can I still email you, my application?	No. The deadline is final, and no applications will be accepted past ____.
